

Question Reflection

Questions allow young people to make sense of their worlds and to take action smartly. They are the most powerful tools we have for making decisions and solving problems - for inventing, changing and improving our lives as well as the lives of others.

Questioning is central to learning, growing and acting. • An unquestioning mind is condemned to “feeding” on the ideas and solutions of others. • An unquestioning mind may have little defense against the data smog so typical of life in this information age.² • An unquestioning mind is too much like a rudderless sloop swept along by storm swelled currents.

5 W & 1 H, Define a question

Block Diagram

- What is a Team?
- What are the elements. Its mission?
- What roles do we need?
- What is the team trying to accomplish?
- What is the culture of the team? Operating principles
- What is the out-come of the team?

